

Residency Reflections

Naleen Patel^{1*}, MD

<https://doi.org/10.55504/2578-9333.1268>

Website: <https://ir.library.louisville.edu/jwellness/>

Affiliations: ¹University of Kansas Medical Center

Recommended Citation: Patel, Naleen (2024) "Residency Reflections,"

Journal of Wellness: Vol.5 : Iss. 3, Article 2.

Received Date: July 10, 2024

Accepted Date: Sept 23, 2024

Publication Date: Oct 1, 2024

In the first year, bright eyes and trembling hands,
Amid the whirl of trauma, each patient a world.
The weight of knowledge, yet so much to learn,
Through sleepless nights, hearts began to yearn.
Caught in the tempest, new skills we did hone,
Building foundations, never alone.

The second year dawned, with confidence aglow,
Wiser now, in the ebb and flow.
Trials still fierce, yet steadier we stood,
In life's fragile balance, seeking the good.
Deeper bonds formed in the crucible's heat,
Together we faced every new feat.

Final year arrived, bittersweet in its grace,
Masters of chaos, yet yearning for space.
With wisdom hard-earned, scars that remain,
We saw the beauty, and felt the pain.
Completion's near, reflections in tow,
A journey now ending, as onward we go.

Funding Source: The author(s) received no specific funding for this work.

Conflict of Interest: The author(s) have no conflict of interest to declare for this work.

*Correspondence To: Naleen Patel
Email: npatel7991@gmail.com

Copyright: © 2024 The author(s). This is an open access article distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License (CC BY 4.0), which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original author and source are credited.