PERCUSSION SET-UP DIAGRAM:

This suggested percussion set up should minimize the issues of sharing instruments between parts. It may be rotated or otherwise modified to fit the need of the ensemble or the performance space.

Duration: circa 12 minutes
When I was in sixth grade my Sunday School teacher, Rebecca McIntosh O'Dell, had my entire class memorize Psalms 139. While I have never been particularly adept at memorizing anything, to this day I can recite this Psalm by heart.

In the Spring of 2010 cancer took Rebecca's life. It was this tragedy that inspired the dual texts of Fearfully, Wonderfully. The first text, sung exclusively by the solo tenor, is most of the Psalm Rebecca taught me. The second text, sung almost exclusively by the solo baritone, is a poem by Thomas Hardy entitled A Wasted Illness.

_Fearfully, Wonderfully_ follows the joint journey of the combined texts, beginning contemplatively with the Psalm, and slowly exploring the changing moods of the two texts. The piece is through-composed, but the horn and viola present a theme in the introduction that permeates the work in modified forms. This theme is meant to represent God's presence, which never fades despite our ever-changing circumstances.

The arcs of the two texts are similar, lending themselves to being spliced together over the course of the piece. However at times the individual meanings seem at odds with one another. In particular, the end of the Psalm combined with the end of Hardy's poem blurs the line between life and death, and it is up to the listener to decide whether the peaceful resolution at the end of the work stems from the recovery or the passing of the subject.
Psalms 139

A Psalm of David. NIV

1 Oh Lord, You have searched me,
and you know me.
2 You know when I sit and when I rise;
you perceive my thoughts from afar.
3 You discern my going out and my lying down;
you are familiar with all my ways.
4 Before a word is on my tongue
you know it completely, oh Lord.

7 Where can I go from your Spirit?
Where can I flee from your presence?
8 If I go up to the heavens, you are there;
if I make my bed in the depths, you are there.
10b ...your right hand will hold me fast.
11 If I say, “Surely the darkness will hide me
and the light become night around me,” 12 even the darkness will not be dark to you;
the night will shine like the day,
for darkness is as light to you.
13 For you created my inmost being;
you knit me together in my mother’s womb.
14 I praise you because I am fearfully and wonderfully made;
your works are wonderful,
I know that full well.

16b ...all the days ordained for me were written in your book
before one of them came to be.
18b ...when I awake, I am still with you.

23a Search me, God, and know my heart...
24b ...and lead me in the way everlasting.

A Wasted Illness

by Thomas Hardy

Through vaults of pain,
Enribbed and wrought with groins of ghastliness,
I passed, and garish spectres moved my brain
To dire distress.

And hammerings,
And quakes, and shoots, and stifling hotness, blent
With webby waxing things and waning things
As on I went.

“Where lies the end
To this foul way?” I asked with weakening breath.
Thereon ahead I saw a door extend -
The door to death.

It loomed more clear:
“At last!” I cried. “The all-delivering door!”
And then, I knew not how, it grew less near
Than theretofore.

And back slid I
Along the galleries by which I came,
And tediously the day returned, and sky,
And life--the same.

And all was well:
Old circumstance resumed its former show,
And on my head the dews of comfort fell...
